Medicals Guide

All Professional boxers, competing over bouts of 4 x 3 minute or 6 x 2 minute duration and above are required to undertake a full medical, as well as blood screening, eye test and an MRI scan annually.

MRI/MRA

In the case of a boxer applying for a professional boxers license for the first time a MRI/MRA is required – there is no additional fee for the MRA.

MEDICAL – Incl. Blood Screening

The medical and blood screening can be undertaken by any doctor, including the boxer's own GP, cost wise this may vary depending on the doctor undertaking the medical.

You will be required to take photo ID to enable the doctor to verify your identity before undertaking the medical and blood screening, as well as the agreed payment.

EYE TEST

The eye test can be undertaken by any high street optician.

As above - You will be required to take photo ID to enable the optician to verify your identity before undertaking the eye test, as well as payment.
